A telegram was received in Hongkong this morning, announcing the death of Prince Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence and Avondale. His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, K.G., was born 8th January, 1864, and had therefore just passed his twenty-eighth year. He was educated privately under the care of the Rev. J. N. Dalton, and on board H.M.S. Britannia. After his voyage round the world as a midshipman on H.M.S. Bathurst, he entered at R.N. In 1883 he became a Lieutenant, R.N. Reserve, and home. Lieutenant, 1888. He was promoted to Captain, Brigade, E Division, R.A. in 1891, and was soon afterwards transferred to the 10th Hussars, of which regiment he was a major. He was also a personal Aide-de-camp to the Queen, Hon. Colonel 4th (Prince Albert Victor's Own) Bombay Cavalry, and Major 5th Pomeranian (Blücher) Hussars. On the 21st January, 1885, he was elected a Member of the Middle Temple, and he possessed the Orders of the Black Eagle of Prussia, of the Grand Cross of the Ottoman Empire of Turkey, of the Elephant of Denmark, and of St. Stephen of Hungary, the collar chain of II. of Spain, the Grand Cross of the Netherlands Lion, Insignia of the Annunciate of the Star of Roumania. In 1890 he was created Duke of Clarence and Avondale and Earl of Athlone. A few weeks ago he was betrothed to his second cousin, the Princess the old Monocacy again to the fore. Overhauling contemporary the Mercury of the inst. says that the old United States side-wheel has undergone some considerable repairs; at present part of her deck is being renewed by Messrs. Boyd & Co., and she will also receive a new shaft for the paddle-wheels. The disappearance of her topmast, the Mercury says, will largely affect her familiar appearance; she is to be provided with fighting tops instead of half lock steel plates, and each top is to have a set of four Forsyth guns, the shrouds of which are charged with powder, and are provided with chilled steel points. Imagine the Monocacy with fighting masts! But at a distance she will look sufficiently blood-stained and less antediluvian.

paid members to avoid getting in arrears of their subscriptions. The monthly "sub" was merely nominal and should be paid promptly and willingly. He could not conceive of a man who would let the Merchant exceed the grudge the paltry sum charged for entrance fee and monthly subscription for an association which was founded with a view to benefiting all members of the cloth industry, socially and intellectually. He was amazed they would get their money's worth if paid together in the future as they had in the past, never forgetting the time honoured maxim "Unity is Strength."
 He then referred to the recent wrecks in the western waters; to the advisability of a system of "water casks" being maintained on all sea-going vessels, both in the interests of shipowners and insurance companies; to a letter by the secretary which "appeared in the Daily Press
 and which contained the reputation of the company officers of the Minerva; and to other matters of general interest.
 Full report of the proceedings which lasted till midnight is unavoidably held over till tomorrow owing to extreme pressure on our newspapers.

PHILADELPHIA, December 12th. Mrs. Modjeska, the celebrated actress, is lying very ill at the Continental Hotel with an acute attack of the grip. Mrs. Modjeska has not been feeling quite well for some weeks, but continued acting, although contrary to advice. On Thursday night, although almost too ill to stand, she persisted in fulfilling an engagement at Trenton. Immediately after the performance, however, she was forced to retire, and on Friday morning she was unable to perform at Reading. As soon as she realized the seriousness of her condition she consented to have the engagement cancelled, and yielded to her husband's entreaties to come on to Philadelphia. On Friday the actress's condition was considered serious. Her temperature was very high, her throat was excruciatingly sore and her breathing very labored and painful. During the night, with good nursing, her condition improved, and this evening she seemed better, although not out of danger.

ST. PETERSBURG, December 12th. The Nova Zemlya, an article commenting on the Dreuband commercial treaties, today says: "We can only regret the treaties as a measure of (mutual) strengthening in the event of war. Chancellor von Caprivi represented the matter in such a light as to justify any measures on the part of the powers outside the Dreuband to still further consolidate their friendship."

BUDA PESTH, December 12th. The Finance Committee of the Lower House of the Reichstag today adopted the Zollverein treaties.

CONSTANTINOPLE, December 12th. The Porte has addressed the French newspaper Le Siècle for alluding in an offensive manner to Emperor William of Germany.

WINNIPEG, December 12th. The Lorne Hotel and the Ontario House, at Moose Jaw, were burned early this morning, and the proprietor of the Lorne Hotel, Henry Jackson, his little girl and a young woman named Ruth McDougall were burned to death, and a railroad man named McClellan and Mrs. Jackson, fatally injured while attempting to escape. The other guests of the two hotels had narrow escapes. The fire was not extinguished until twenty buildings, including the English church, were burned.

DUBLIN, December 12th. The jury in the case of Rev. Samuel G. Cotton, charged with manslaughter, today announced that they could not agree, and were discharged. Cotton was accused of having caused the death of a boy named Brown, an inmate of the Curragh Orphan Asylum in Kildare, by ill-treatment.

MADRID, December 12th. All duties embodied in the general tariff are largely increased, the tax on alcohol for manufacturing purposes being raised to three times the previous amount.

PARIS, December 12th. The Senate today rejected an amendment in favor of raising the duty on silk.

PANAMA, December 12th. Further returns from distant points of Colombia assure the triumphant re-election of President Rafael Nunez and the election of Miguel Acosta as Vice-president.

MADRID, December 12th. The España confirms the announcement that a loan of 150,000,000 has been arranged to be issued on the 30th inst.

LONDON, December 12th. The Standard's Rome correspondence says: Explicit declarations have passed between France and the Vatican with a view of promoting cordial relations between that Government and the Papal See. On the part of France it was stated that the Government did not desire to attack the Pope, but the question of internal order remained the Government's business.

The Chronicle's Rome correspondence says: The Pope has sent copies of the allocation which he will read at tomorrow's consistory to all the churches of Europe. It will declare the law of guarantees not sufficient to guarantee the liberty of the Pope. The address has been modified since Count Kalinsky's recent speech on the papal question in the Austrian delegation.

The directors of the Montagu Railway Finance Company who were sent to inspect the property, the acquisition of which the company has under consideration, have called their approval of its purchase.

By the fall of a building at Newport today two adjacent cottages were completely crushed, severely injuring ten persons.

PARIS, December 12th. We just missed having a Ministerial crisis on Saturday. A resolution in favor of the separation of Church and State was defeated by a majority of only twenty votes, although M. de Freycinet announced that he would resign if the resolution passed. The Cabinet was victorious in fact, but it has received a shock from which it will recover with difficulty. M. de Freycinet, on leaving the Chamber, said: "Another such victory and I shall fight no more."

Commenting upon the resolution adopted by the Chamber of Deputies, expressing confidence in the Government in connection with the anti-clerical agitation, the Conservative Journal expresses gratification at the smallness of the majority for the Government.

The Radical journals reproach the Government for dividing the Republican ranks. The Journal des Debats and Figaro recommend a policy of conciliation. The Temps says that sincere Catholics must understand that the Government will not hesitate to resort to force should the action of the bishops again imperil the tranquility of the country.

T. B. Ryan, the Chicago fair commissioner, in an interview today, said: "I regret to find so far that there is little enthusiasm for the Chicago fair among manufacturers, though I do not think the coldness is due to the McKinley law."

BERLIN, December 12th. Germany will open negotiations for a commercial treaty with the Netherlands in January. The scientific journal Zentralblatt has been asked for commenting unfavorably upon the Emperor's recent application of "Suprema lex voluntas regis."

LATE TELEGRAMS.

BOMBAY, December 12th. The British India steamer Kilwa, which arrived today from the Persian Gulf, reports having landed fifteen syces at Kauli, more or less injured. At sea the men fell to rioting, and one was shot through the leg by one of the officers.

Great anxiety is apprehended in the Bejapur and Sholapur districts of the Bombay Presidency. Food grains are rising in price and the crops withering. Rain-producing experiments have been tried in the former district without success.

MADRAS, December 12th. Sir Spencer Wells, the eminent doctor, and his daughter have arrived in Madras.

BOMBAY, December 20th. The Marine Court of Enquiry has given judgment in the Miraflores case. The pilot is held blameless, and justified in believing the anchors would run away. It would have been a proper precaution on the Captain's part to have informed the pilot that the port anchor might stick. The cause of the collision, the Court finds, was the failure of the engines to act when the pilot gave the order "slow astern," and the port anchor not being properly let go when ordered. The Court considers Mr. Graham, Chief Engineer, guilty of negligence in not being at his station when the ship got under weigh, but taking into consideration his previous character and service, the Court merely censured him.

ALLAHABAD, December 23rd. A small party of native surveyors, belonging to the Government of India Survey Department, will leave Bombay this week for Zanzibar to map out the frontier between English and German territory in East Africa.

AFFAIRS IN SOUTH FORMOSA.

Writing on the 28th December, the correspondent of the N. C. Daily News gives the following interesting account of the Likin troubles in South Formosa:

As apology for my long silence it must be stated that, pending the new Governor's arrival, and his settlement in office, there has really been very little to report. Liu Ming-chuan left things in such a state of absolute chaos that those who were holding the reins of government until Liu's successor took them over, thought it best to keep very quiet, restricting almost all official action to mere routine details. Even now there is nothing very definite to state either as to Shao's intentions or doings, but, as it would appear His Excellency intends to make a radical change in Likin arrangements, at least as far as the universal and ridiculous levy within the Treaty ports goes, I have thought it best to send you a few lines in explanation of what has, thus far, been going on. If Shao wanted strong and further proof of the truth of what he stated in his memorial to the Throne as to the absolute impossibility of governing with the officials at present stationed in the island, the events of the past fortnight might well be brought forward as strongest testimony to the accuracy of his assertions. About two weeks or ten days ago it was currently reported that the Governor had sent down orders for the abolition of Likin stations in the city and port of Fuzhou, as also those in Tainan, directing, however, that they should be re-established at points at least 10 miles away from both divisions of the port.

At this general satisfaction was unbounded, for, quite apart from the evil effect on foreign interests, native trades and occupations have been harassed and oppressed to a great extent that the people were getting desperate. I have on several occasions told you how, in order to avoid the rule which says that import Likins shall not be levied, all pretexts have been tried to bring into the 'export' category as many articles as possible. The poor people coming from the city and port of Fuzhou, as also those in Tainan, directing, however, that they should be re-established at points at least 10 miles away from both divisions of the port.

"This is a genuine petition and all the signatures appended to it are bona fide."

(Here follow the signatures of 33 firms.) Of course if Likins was only levied on Chinese owned and Chinese produce cargo, foreigners could have nothing to say, although the presence of the stations in the Treaty port must always be highly inconvenient, but the whole reason for the officials wishing for a continuance of the present Likins is solely because as they thereby enabled to levy on foreign goods, which form the greatest portion of the imports, but which, in most instances, (even when going to the city itself) have to travel by water and thus a pretext is seized for dubbing them 'exports' and charging Likins. This handicaps trade heavily and being utterly against treaty, foreigners cannot rest until the intolerable burden is removed. The officials make no secret of the fact that but for this illegal levy it would not be worth while to keep up a Likins establishment. They say one or two stations judiciously placed in the port area command supervision of all foreign cargo as it is being distributed and that the return from a levy on this, when considered in relation to the comparatively large staff necessary for its collection, pays handsomely, whereas if stations were put up in the country "not one-third so much cargo would come under control, seeing that only water-borne (import) goods can be treated as exports, and the real exports are too few to pay for a large collecting staff." This may be true but it does not justify the gross illegality of the alternative adopted, and if followed to a logical conclusion can only be admitted as a levying that no Likins should be imposed upon goods that the country is necessarily out of proportion in the returns.

As showing how stupidly ignorant or offensively contemptuous, even the high officials are as to foreign rights, I may mention that only the other day a foreign firm wanted to send some kerosene oil to Takow from Amoy; the Consul directed the shippers to inform the Likins officers that the oil was foreign-owned. The reply to this was that "it must pay Likins." On the Consul writing to the Taitai the latter admitted no Likins could be charged on oil, but said that the shippers must get a customs (re-export) certificate, and that the cargo should be accompanied by a bill of lading and again on landing, in fact he wanted it treated as if it were really a re-export to another, and separate port in China. For form's sake the Customs were applied to and naturally replied that being an import on which duty had already been paid and not a re-export "they had no concern with it." The Consul then directed the merchant to ship, and the Likins people took no active notice of the affair. The Taitai, however, insisted on having the last word, reiterating, even after hearing the Customs' decision, his former assertion, "can anything better be advanced to show how accurately Shao gauged the official intelligence of those who were holding office in Formosa?"

H.I.G.M.'s Vice-Consul is at present in Tamsui interviewing the Governor, and there can be little doubt but that both the camphor and Likins questions will be thrashed out. What views His Excellency holds we can only guess as yet, but it is most devoutly to be hoped, both in native and foreign interests, that a regime more consistent with reason, law, and justice will eventually be introduced.

THE RISING IN MANCHURIA.

The Tientsin correspondent of the North China Daily News writes on December 30th as follows:

When last I wrote some days ago, it seemed, from all the facts then known, that the "rebellion" outside the Wall had quite spent itself. This may in fact be the case, though some date recently to hand of an apparently reliable nature, together with the moving of troops, seem to indicate that it had more vitality than was supposed. The information here given is based upon the latest reports from the rebels, and is not intended to show how accurately Shao gauged the official intelligence of those who were holding office in Formosa?
